

Website Support

Cheeky Monkey Media has over 15 years of Drupal and WordPress web development experience. Since 2008, we've helped organizations reach more people, engage their communities, and promote action and awareness for a number of important causes.

WHAT IS WEBOPS?

WebOps is an approach to website maintenance and support that takes advantage of the power of iterative changes. Encompassing strategy, planning, design, monitoring, and enhancement, a team of web professionals work together to evolve an organization's website over time, rather than trying to tackle sweeping changes in a single stress-inducing step.

WEBSITE SUPPORT

Cheeky Monkey's WebOps solutions provide flexible options to help organizations maintain and enhance their website, either as an addition to an in-house team, or through a simple, full service, turnkey solution. Enjoy the benefits of an experienced team while maintaining a continual maintenance and support process that will allow your website to evolve, grow, and stay top of mind within your communities.

“We felt that we got great value for our money with Cheeky Monkey Media. It wasn't just the actual website that we felt we had that value from. We appreciated the interaction with the team at Cheeky Monkey and we got value from the ongoing connection that we have with them. They are very engaged with their clients during and after the project is done. They regularly ask us if there's anything that they can do if we have any questions, and how are things going.
